American Immunization Registry Association (AIRA)

The American Immunization Registry Association (AIRA) is a membership organization with the goal of preventing and controlling vaccine preventable disease by enhancing the capacity of population-based immunization registries. This is done by providing a forum through which registry programs, interested organizations and individuals and communities may combine efforts and share methods, techniques, standards and information. The Association also promotes policies and programs to support registry networks and the privacy and confidentiality of data collected.

Every Child By Two

Every Child By Two strives to raise awareness of the critical need for timely immunization and establish a systematic method to ensure the immunization of all of America's children by the age of two. Through this not-for-profit organization, Former First Lady of the United States Rosalynn Carter and Former First Lady of Arkansas Betty Bumpers have enhanced state-wide immunization efforts by encouraging and facilitating: public/private partnerships; collaborative activities with managed care organizations; and initiatives to develop school-based sites for pre-school immunizations. Both of these highly influential women are intimately involved with the activities of Every Child By Two and are currently focusing their efforts on promoting immunization registries.
